

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Happy New Year from the HUD Center for Faith-Based and Neighborhood Partnerships (HUD CFBNP)! 2011 was a whirlwind year filled with the CFBNP sponsoring a variety of conferences, roundtables, and outreach events focusing on many of HUD's most important initiatives and programs. Some of the more notable community and faith outreach engagements CFBNP participated in during 2011 and we are particularly proud to include - the White House's multi-state Faith-Based Conference Series "Connecting Communities for the Common Good," as well the facilitation of several roundtable events including "Families Facing Foreclosure with Facts, Not Fear," "Daddy's House: A Conversation on Housing for Single Fathers" and "Building Opportunities for Collaboration - A HUD Baltimore Information Forum for Faith Leaders".

We want to thank you all for your support this past year - without it, we would not have accomplished so much. HUD CFBNP has great plans for the New Year and in the months to come, we look forward to announcing many new community outreach engagements in 2012 highlighting some of HUD's programs our stakeholders have expressed interest in throughout the country. Until then, click here to read about our successful outreach in 2011

We wish you and your family a prosperous New Year!

Sincerely,
The HUD CFBNP Family
